

Minuteman Press of Stamford — Thriving in Interesting Times

There is an ancient curse: “May you live in interesting times.” Minuteman Press of Stamford has turned the curse into opportunities for growth.

The printing industry has been challenged by desktop publishing, online printing sources and of course, e-mail. So how does the business continue to grow?

“By offering our customers excellent service, high quality printing and competitive prices,” says Peter Sandler, owner and manager. “We strive to complete every job, no matter how large or small, with the same level of courtesy and care that all of us would want to receive when we engage a company to work for us. We always seek to complete every project in the most economical way and on time. I’m proud to say that we have an excellent track record.”

This is why Minuteman Press of Stamford is listed every year as one of the Fairfield County Business Journal’s “Top Printers in Fairfield County.”

Minuteman Press of Stamford services customers from New York City through Westchester County and of course, most of Connecticut.

The other key to success is the broad range of services offered. “We do all types of traditional printing for businesses and individuals. Everything from forms to cards to invitations to posters and journals. We do graphic design from scratch or fix customers’ files that are sent to us that need work. Our job is to make our customer’s job easy,” says Sandler.

Nowadays just doing traditional printing isn’t enough. “We create promotional items of all types, many of them right on the premises. We have now added 3D printing as a new capability.”

Call, stop in or visit them online. You will always be welcome.